

OVERCOMING CHALLENGES

A Note From Our President

Dear Friends,

The past twelve months have been an overwhelming success for the Coastal Bend Food Bank. We've accomplished many goals and set new records with total distribution of 13,049,919 pounds of food and over 10,874,932 meals. That's close to $14 million of food distributed throughout the eleven counties we serve.

Our Mobile Pantry Program distributed over 8,365,143 pounds of food and 6,971,143 meals to 27 agency sites in rural areas and surrounding South Texas counties. Additionally, our Community Outreach Department reached just shy of 438,000 potential applicants and our USDA/Nutrition Education Department contacted over 36,000 candidates and conducted 138 classes at 118 sites. Your support also helped facilitate our Diabetes Hands-On Program.

All of our efforts to fulfill our mission couldn't be accomplished without the support of our generous philanthropic organizations, committed corporate sponsors, and our countless volunteers who contribute through various fundraising efforts.

Thanks to the combined effort of the Coastal Bend Food Bank staff and Board of Directors, we have conceived of a new five year plan. The plan highlights the need for a state-of-the-art facility to replace our current facility that we've outgrown. Our new facility will feature innovative technology and equipment to expedite food distribution and expand nutrition education to residents of the Coastal Bend.

The amazing Coastal Bend Food Bank staff and our dedicated volunteers continue to provide needed food and nutrition education to our community in so many ways. By partnering with other agencies, we are able to leverage our effectiveness and geographic reach throughout our eleven county service area.

As a member of Feeding America, we continue to adhere to the mission and goal of nourishing those in need. We thank each of you for donating your time and money during this critical period. I ask for your continuing support of this indispensable, community-minded organization, The Coastal Bend Food Bank.

Sincerely,

Opportunities to Grow and Learn

The Coastal Bend Food Bank has been operating in disaster mode since Hurricane Harvey hit the Gulf Coast in 2017; Hurricane Hanna followed in 2020, and the onset of the ongoing pandemic. We also responded to an unprecedented freeze that left many families without electricity and food for days. The stress and hardships imposed by COVID-19 restrictions, loss of jobs, isolation, and school and business closures rendered people fearful and uncertain about the future. The Food Bank's mission was tested.

Our resources stretched to new limits, and we learned that amid disaster, we could operate with practicality and efficiency. The worst times also became the best times as the Food Bank's staff showed commitment to the mission. During the pandemic, staff members showed up to work and helped families when needed, no matter the limitations imposed. Two to three thousand car distributions became commonplace. The staff accepted the summer heat, mosquitos, the long hours, the hard work, and even the threat of contracting COVID without complaints. Our staff members are among the heroes of the pandemic and experts at handling disasters now. We have been blessed indeed, and we have gained new strength through hardship.

We could not have accomplished so much without the help of our donors and volunteers. Every day they showed up to work side-by-side with our staff, and our donors helped us secure enough food to meet the demand. All of them are our Food Bank heroes.

CULINARY KITS FOR KIDS PROGRAM

2020 was a rough year for the Coastal Bend Food Bank, especially for the SNAP-Education program. A new “normal” was being established, where face-to-face contact was impossible, and the transition to virtual education was inevitable.

The need for education increased. Food-insecure children were now stuck indoors, and millions of parents lost jobs. With all this chaos ensuing, the SNAP-Education Department knew something had to be done to continue giving these at-risk children the opportunity to improve their health and mental well-being. This is where the Culinary Kits for Kids (CKK) program comes into play.

The CKK program is the brainchild of nutrition educators Alejandra Vazquez and Tracy Atkinson. These enterprising nutritionists begged the question, “How do we continue educating and instilling healthy eating behaviors in children when face-to-face interactions are not possible?”

This ground-breaking program is designed similar to Hello Fresh, the meal kit delivery service. The program provides food-insecure children with a weekly meal kit consisting of two recipes containing fresh produce. Each child receives the recipe ingredients, pre-portioned and labeled, along with educational materials, fun nutrition incentives, and a follow-along video demonstrated by the nutrition educators. These instructional videos help the children follow the recipes while learning essential cooking skills such as safe knife handling, proper food storage and preparation, and ways to reduce the risk of foodborne illnesses.

Lastly, each child completes a pre- and post-survey, approved by Feeding Texas, with the assistance of their IRB. The surveys ask quantitative questions on daily fruit and vegetable intake. Based on prior research indicating statistical improvements in produce intake and preference, we are conducting our study and data collection of children who follow our culinary program. Impressed by the encouraging results of our surveys, Feeding America wants to learn more about our CKK program and plans on following one of our CKK program families for a day.

We have the potential to present our program and findings at the Feeding

America National Conference, improving our chances of making this program a fully reimbursable program in the future. We are creating an official Logic Model, an evidence-based nutrition education curriculum to reach our goal. We are also establishing a partnership with a statistician for data collection and analysis and completing a dissertation on the program conducted by our community registered dietitian. These projects will help further our mission to nourish and improve the health of even more at-risk youth throughout our community.
